Beauty · November Flashback

LY (2025) and LLY (2024) November, cohort by cohort, against each year's September and October, and what it means for November 2026.

TY agenda	What it takes	Where we start
November GMV +25% vs LY	20.5M GMV (685K/day) vs LY 16.4M. About 534M impressions (+31% vs LY) at today's conversion with LY/LLY event lift.	Oct MTD is running −5% vs LY; Sept 2026 GMV per 1K impressions is 39.3 AED vs 49.8 LY (UCR 1.71% vs 2.28%).
Retail WoC under 10 weeks at end of November	End-Nov stock at most 832K units (10 weeks of the planned Nov run-rate, 83.2K units/week).	Live retail stock 266K units on 6 Oct = 20.2 weeks of cover on the last 30 days. LY ended November at 6.6 weeks, LLY at 6.7.

Generated 7 Oct 2026 10:11 UTC from the Beauty Pulse data. Full calendar November in every year; per-day figures so periods of different length compare fairly. Scope: Namshi marketplaces, GMV incl. VAT above zero, Beauty, no samples & GWP.

Executive summary

- November 2025 vs 2024: GMV 16.4M vs 17.8M (−8%), per day 548K vs 593K. Impressions +7%, markdown 43.7% vs 35.4% (+8.2pp). LY bought less GMV with more traffic and deeper discounts.
- Lift over September fell: November GMV per day was +124% vs September in 2024 but only +86% in 2025; GMV per impression ran +14% vs September in 2024 and −19% in 2025.
- Where LY lost the most (GMV per day vs LLY): YF Week −31% (imps −12%, MKD +12.1pp); Pre 11.11 −31% (imps −12%, MKD +1.4pp); Pre YF −23% (imps −7%, MKD +15.4pp).
- Best cohort YoY: BAU week +36% on impressions +39% and markdown +9.8pp.
- Conversion, not traffic, is the gap. UCR rises on event days (event traffic buys more units), but CTR slips and markdown cuts ASP. On in-between days pushed with impressions (BAU week, YF Week) GMV per impression fell to 67–75% of September; peak days (11.11, Pre YF, YF, YF Post) held ~90%+.
- 2026 GMV plan: 20.5M (+25% vs LY). At Sept 2026 conversion (39.3 AED / 1K imps) and the average LY/LLY event lift, November needs about 534M impressions (+31% vs LY); range 458M–644M (LLY-like to LY-like conversion).
- Stock is the binding constraint, not the WoC cap. Retail units are running −40% vs LY over the last 30 days and live retail stock is 266K units (−43% vs the same day LY). Selling the plan (≈40.4K units to 31 Oct + 357K in November) needs at least 131K units of inbound before the end of November just not to run out; ending at LY's 6.6 weeks needs ≈683K; the 10-week cap allows up to 963K.
- Replicate: LLY's Singles depth on the right brands, the post-Singles extension (NYX, L'Oréal, Maybelline), YF → YF Post continuity (Kerastase, Kiko, ABH). Fix: early Singles (Pre 11.11) and YF Week conversion, markdown that did not pay (Elizabeth Arden, Dyson, Philips, Medicube), and brands that are down 50–70% coming into OND (NYX, Kerastase, MUFE, La Roche-Posay, Vichy).

Reading

- UCR does not fall when impressions rise — it rises. On 3.5×+ days UCR was ~3.7–4.5% vs 2.3–2.5% in September: event traffic arrives with deals and buys more units.
- What falls is CTR and ASP. CTR slips a little as impressions widen, and deeper markdown pulls ASP down, so GMV per impression can drop while UCR climbs.
- LY's problem was the 1.5–3.5× days: 2025 converted those at −18% to −28% vs September at 37–51% markdown, where 2024 ran +17% to +24% at 38%. Those are the BAU week after Singles and YF Week — impressions and markdown without a peak-day reason to buy.
- Today's funnel is weaker than LY's: Sept 2026 UCR 1.71% vs 2.28%, GMV per 1K impressions 39.3 vs 49.8 AED. Every conversion point recovered lowers the impressions ask directly.
- Markdown: LY ran 8pp more markdown across November than LLY and still sold 8% less per day; the extra depth showed up as lower ASP, not more GMV. Keep depth for the peak days and the brands where it paid (see brand pages).

6 · Learnings — replicate, fix, missed

What worked LY — replicate

- YF LY: GMV/day +348% vs Sept at 47.9% markdown, impressions +395% (Imps + markdown).
- YF Post LY: GMV/day +323% vs Sept at 44.1% markdown, impressions +341% (Imps + markdown).
- 11.11 LY: GMV/day +210% vs Sept at 50.0% markdown, impressions +229% (Imps + markdown).

What did not work — improve

- YF Week: LY GMV/day −31% vs LLY (461K vs 667K), markdown 50.0% vs 38.0%, impressions/day −12%.
- Pre 11.11: LY GMV/day −31% vs LLY (494K vs 713K), markdown 40.3% vs 39.0%, impressions/day −12%.
- Pre YF: LY GMV/day −23% vs LLY (762K vs 990K), markdown 52.3% vs 36.9%, impressions/day −7%.

Missed vs LLY

- Spiked in LLY but not in LY: Dyson LLY +83% → LY −0%, Valentino LLY +154% → LY −14%, Chloe LLY +170% → LY −47%, Prada LLY +127% → LY −33%

7 · 2026 plan — GMV +25% vs LY

Target per cohort = LY GMV × 1.25. Impressions needed = target ÷ (Sept 2026 GMV per impression 39.3 AED/1K × the cohort's lift over September, average of LY and LLY); range = the better year's lift to the weaker year's. Sept 2026 runs 5.40M impressions a day.

Plan calls

- Ask onsite for ≈534M November impressions (+31% vs LY), weighted to 11.11, Pre YF, YF and YF Post where an impression earned 30%+ more than in the BAU week.
- BAU week (15–19 Nov) is the most expensive GMV of the month (GMV per impression at 67–83% of September in both years): fix its offer or accept less growth there and over-deliver on the peaks.
- Pre 11.11 and YF Week lost 31% vs LLY: start the Singles and YF offers on day 1 of those windows with visibility, not just on the peak day.
- Conversion work is worth more than traffic: recovering Sept 2026 UCR to LY's level alone would cut the impressions ask by about a quarter.
- Discontinued Benefit Cosmetics: its target is handed to same-type brands in its sub-categories, pro rata to their LY GMV — Anastasia Beverly Hills 26%, Mac Cosmetics 23%, Charlotte Tilbury 15%, Kylie Cosmetics 10%, Make Up For Ever 7% and the rest spread; totals unchanged.

8 · Inventory — WoC under 10 weeks at end of November

Retail only (Namshi retail, partner 3001), KSA + UAE warehouses. WoC = live retail stock ÷ (retail units shipped in the last 30 days ÷ 30 × 7), as on the dashboard. Plan sales: rest of October at the last-30-day unit trend vs LY (−40%), November = LY November units × 1.25. Stock as of 6 Oct 2026.

	Units	Note
Live retail stock now	266K	20.2 weeks on the last 30 days
Plan sales to 31 Oct	40.4K	LY 66.9K × trend 0.60
Plan sales in November	357K	LY 285K × 1.25 → 83.2K units/week
End-Nov stock with no inbound	-131K	negative = the plan cannot be sold from today's stock
Minimum inbound to sell the plan	131K	≈7.00M AED at LY Nov unit cost
Inbound to end at LY's 6.6 wk	683K
Maximum inbound at the 10-week cap	963K	end-Nov stock ≤ 832K units

- The 10-week cap is not the risk; running short is. WoC at the end of November is measured on November's peak sales, so even 10 weeks there is ~832K units — far more than December sells. LY and LLY both closed November at ~6.6–6.7 weeks.
- Recommended landing band: 6–8 weeks at end of November (LY/LLY level, under the cap, without a December hangover): inbound ≈630K–797K units between now and end of November, front-loaded before Pre 11.11 and YF Week.
- Category and brand split below: 'Min inbound' = units needed not to run out at plan; 'Max inbound' = most that keeps the end-Nov WoC under the cap. Brands with negative 'end with no inbound' need POs now; brands already over the cap at end-Nov without any inbound need sell-through, not buying.

What worked

- LY Nov +21% vs LLY at the same ~50% markdown.
- Extending the Singles deal paid off: Post Singles 67K/day (vs 40K LLY) and the BAU week after Singles 66K/day vs 18K LLY at mid-50s% markdown.
- YF Post held at 77.5K/day (76K LLY).

Where we missed GMV

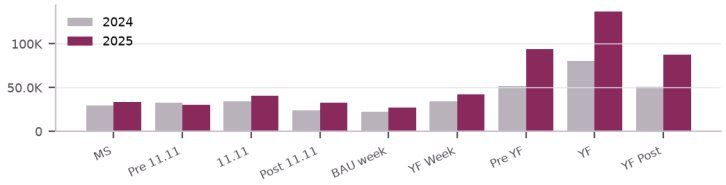

- Pre Singles LY: 39K/day vs 66.5K LLY (−42%) even with impressions +199% (UCR 3.2% vs 4.6%). The early offer didn't convert.
- BF Week 33K vs 42K/day and YF 74.5K vs 91K/day (−18%) at the same 50% markdown and 5× impressions. Conversion fell from 5.3% to 4.3%.
- Sept 2026 is 7.9K/day vs 17.5K LY (−55%), with UCR 1.74% vs 2.71%.

2026 focus

- Lock 50%+ from Pre Singles through the week after Singles, with visibility from day 1 of Pre Singles.
- Find out why Sept 2026 halved (stock, listings, price) before November.

What worked

- LY Nov +37% vs LLY.
- Full price through Singles: 0–10% markdown yet 41K/day on 11.11 (+122% vs Sept) and 33K/day on MS. Demand is organic.
- YF was the biggest Beauty brand-day: 137K/day (80K LLY) at 70% markdown with impressions +885%. Pre YF was 94K vs 52K/day.

Where we missed GMV

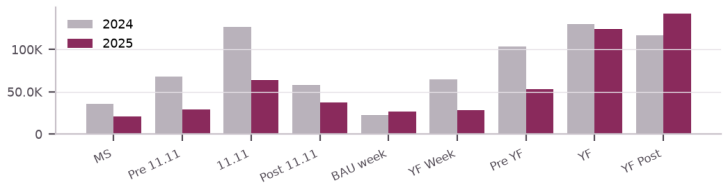

- BF Week at 73% markdown gave 42.5K/day vs 34K LLY at 13%: units doubled but ASP fell from 190 to 61, so the depth bought little GMV.
- Sept 2026 UCR is 1.07% vs 1.68% LY at ASP 195. Conversion is the risk going in.

2026 focus

- Stay full price until Pre YF; put depth only into Pre YF, YF and YF Post, not the whole BF Week.

What worked

- YF and YF Post LY: 96K and 125K/day (YF Post +57% vs LLY) at 31–41% markdown, with UCR 5.7–7%.
- LLY's Singles at only 24% markdown: 54K / 75K / 46K per day, driven by impressions (+165% to +631% vs Sept).

Where we missed GMV

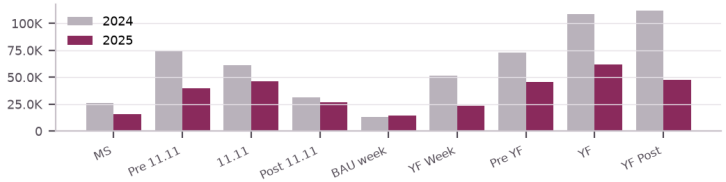

- LY Nov −24% vs LLY. Singles was about half of LLY (11.11 38K vs 75K/day). Impressions were the gap: +119% LY vs +631% LLY at a similar 20–24% markdown.
- BF Week and Pre YF LY at 43–46% markdown: 25.5K and 48K/day vs 49K and 80K LLY at 27%.
- Sept 2026 is 10.3K/day vs 20K LY, with UCR 1.98% vs 3.34%.

2026 focus

- Ask onsite for LLY-level Singles visibility; about 24% markdown was enough.

Method and definitions

- Periods: the LFL cohorts of the 2026 dates 1–30 Nov (MS, Pre 11.11, 11.11, Post 11.11, BAU week, YF Week, Pre YF, YF, YF Post). LY / LLY use the like-for-like dates; days the mapping skips (20 Nov LY, 20–21 Nov LLY) count in the BAU week and days outside November are left out, so every total is calendar November.
- Per-day figures throughout, so periods of different length compare fairly. Uplift vs September / October = the period's per-day value vs that month's per-day value in the same year.
- What drove it: Impressions-led = impressions explain 60%+ of the GMV lift and markdown rose under 3pp; Markdown-led = markdown up 3pp+ and impressions explain under 60%; Imps + markdown = both; Organic = GMV up 10%+ without either; Neutral = within ±10%; Declined = 10%+ below September.
- Impressions needed = target ÷ (Sept 2026 GMV per impression × the period's lift over September, average of LY and LLY; lifts kept within 0.3–3×). Rows with too little Sept 2026 traffic use their category's rates.
- GMV incl. VAT, all item statuses; MKD % = markdown ÷ normal price; CTR = glance views ÷ impressions (search + non-search, all platforms); UCR = units ÷ glance views; ASP = GMV ÷ units.
- WoC (retail, units) = live Namshi retail stock in the KSA + UAE warehouses ÷ (retail units shipped from them in the last 30 days ÷ 30 × 7). Plan sales: rest of October = LY units × the brand's / category's last-30-day unit trend vs the same 30 days LY (kept within 0.5–1.5×), November = LY November units × 1.25 (units assumed to grow with GMV).
- Discontinued Benefit Cosmetics stays in all history; its 2026 target is handed to same-type brands in its sub-categories.
